As General Counsel, Becca Gose is the chief legal counsel for the university and leads the Office of General Counsel, which consists of attorneys who provide legal advice on a diverse range of issues. Becca and her staff focus on supporting the university through providing strategic and preventative advising, crafting creative and pragmatic solutions, and engaging in collaborative problem-solving. Becca sits as a member of the University Cabinet and advises the Board of Trustees, President, Provost and all levels of leadership.

Becca has served the university since 2010, as Assistant and then Associate General Counsel, and began her current role in 2015. Prior to coming to the university, she was a litigation attorney in the San Francisco office of Munger, Tolles & Olson, where a portion of her practice was dedicated to representing public higher education institutions, in addition to employment, copyright, constitutional and general business litigation. Prior to that, she served as a law clerk to the Honorable David M. Ebel on the federal Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals. She received her JD from the University of California at Berkeley and her BA from the University of Colorado at Boulder.
